

Course Element: Assessment

Create and set up Assessment

You configure the assessment module in the course editor in the tab "Assessment". Here you can configure the evaluation in such a way that

- A rubric is used as the basis for the evaluation
- Points are awarded (or not)
- An individual comment can be added to
- An individual document can be added

For learning path courses there is another configuration option. In this way, the course element "Assessment" can also be excluded from the total score (assessment) of the course. This means that in the display of the progress of the course, the course element will be taken into account in the percentage value of the progress, but not in the total score of the course, which appears below the percentage display and is also included in the performance record for the course.

In addition, special notes can be added for all users and for other coaches, which are always displayed.

Tab "Assessment" - Configuration

Rubric assessment

An interesting possibility of criteria-based assessment with the help of the course element "Assessment" is offered by the rubric assessment. To do this, select a previously created learning resource form or create a new form using the button "Choose form" -> Create, to which you can sensibly add a rubric element. Select in the configuration of the items "Transfer sum from rubric form" or "Transfer average from rubric form", the items resulting from the rubric structure will then be automatically transferred. If you choose the "Sum" option, the points awarded per line will be added together. If "Average" is selected, the average sum of all column lines is determined. Alternatively, a manual scoring system can be selected or no points at all can be awarded.

Assigning points

The following options are available:

- ✓ No points
- Set points manually
- Transfer sum from rubric questionnaire
- Transfer average from rubric questionnaire

The rubric-related points only appear if a rubric form has also been selected for the evaluation.

If points are to be awarded, the minimum and maximum number of points must still be defined.

Display Passed / Failed:

If you check this box a Passed or Failed will be displayed. If you do not check it nothing will be displayed.

Type of display: By means of «Automatic (using cut value)» or «Manually by tutor» you have the possibility to decide if Passed or Failed is allocated either automatically based on a cut value or if the tutor should allocate it manually. You cannot do this if you have not checked the box Display passed / failed: .

Passed cut value: Please enter the minimum number of points necessary to get a Passed. Below this cut value participants get a Failed. You cannot do this if you have selected «Manually by tutor» in the field Type of display ., or chose not to select the option Score granted.

Individual comment:

When checking this box you have the possibility to make an individual comment regarding your assessment.

Perform assessment

The assessment of course participants is carried out by the course owner or course coach either in the course run with the course editor closed or in the assessment tool. All course participants appear in the overview and, depending on the configuration of the columns, additional information such as the score achieved, the status, etc. Furthermore, a bulk assessment can also be carried out here or the data of all participants can be reset.
